

Ma Yuqing, who studied percussion and piano since childhood, studied under Professor Yang ruwen. In 2009, she was admitted to the middle school affiliated to Shanghai Conservatory of music, majoring in Chinese percussion, under the guidance of Associate Professor Luo Tianqi and teacher Gao Hua. In 2015, she was admitted to the Department of modern instrumental music and percussion of Shanghai Conservatory of music. After entering the school, she studied with associate professor Luo Tianqi, Dr. Wang Yuyan, teacher Zhu Lei, Associate Professor Zhou Xiong, Associate Professor Wang Jie, etc. In 2020, she was admitted to the Shanghai Conservatory of music as a graduate student majoring in Chinese percussion and supervised by Luo Tianqi.

In 2013, she successfully held a personal concert "listen to our voice". She has participated in the "wave" series of special concerts of the percussion Orchestra of Shanghai Conservatory of music for many times. She once served as the chief of percussion Department of Shanghai Conservatory of music's National Orchestra, participated in the "spring and autumn fruit" series, "Shanghai Spring" series, new era "Long March suite" and other large-scale performances, and repeatedly participated in the performances of Shanghai Opera House, Shanghai Philharmonic Orchestra and Shenzhen Symphony Orchestra, which were highly praised. She has been invited to perform in Vienna, Hong Kong, Macao, Zhuhai and Yunnan. Participate in the shooting of CCTV9 exploration and discovery of Dunhuang musical instruments.

Award winning experience:

In 2011, the Sixth National Youth percussion competition won the first place in national percussion in the professional youth group.

In 2017, the sixth national youth national musical instrument education and teaching achievement exhibition activity (Wenhua Award) ensemble Gold Award.

In 2017, IPEA International Percussion ranked third in the Chinese percussion group

The third prize of the combination group of the first Japan International Percussion competition in 2018

The first place in the unconventional combination group of CCTV China instrumental TV Grand Prix in 2019